Withdrawal of France Protested

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Opposition to France's plans to withdraw its forces from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military command mounted today on all sides of the North Atlantic Alliance.

The French Senate's Foreign Affairs Committee also registered its disapproval, saying in a resolution that President Charles de Gaulle's decisions on NATO "compromise the security of France, the unity of Europe and the consolidation of peace."

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson sent De Gaulle a letter disputing the French leader's arguments supporting his decision to resume command over the 65,000 French troops under NATO control in West Germany.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard told a meeting in Bonn that it would be unbearable for West Germany if a new kind of occupation statute were to be created as a result of a French pullout.

Vitus Bering, a Dane employed by Russia, discovered Alaska in 1741.

Weir Trying Not to Be Convicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley ordered Tuesday that James Weir of Dermott show cause on March 21 for why he should not be evicted from his farm, which he was ordered to vacate by March 12.

Weir's 994-acre farm in Chicot County was sold at public auction for $60,000 in 1962, after he failed to pay a $17,000 judgment for overplanting his 1959 rice acreage allotment.

Four Louisiana men bought the property and at a mortgage foreclosure sale Jan. 24 to remove Mrs. Weir's dower interest in the farm, a representative of the men was the high bidder at $25,000.

Earth's driest spot is the Atacama desert in Chile.

Mayor Lindsey Landed on Face

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay met the press head-on Sunday in Central Park — and landed on his face.

It was a tough football game between Lindsay's 10-week-old administration and newsmen.

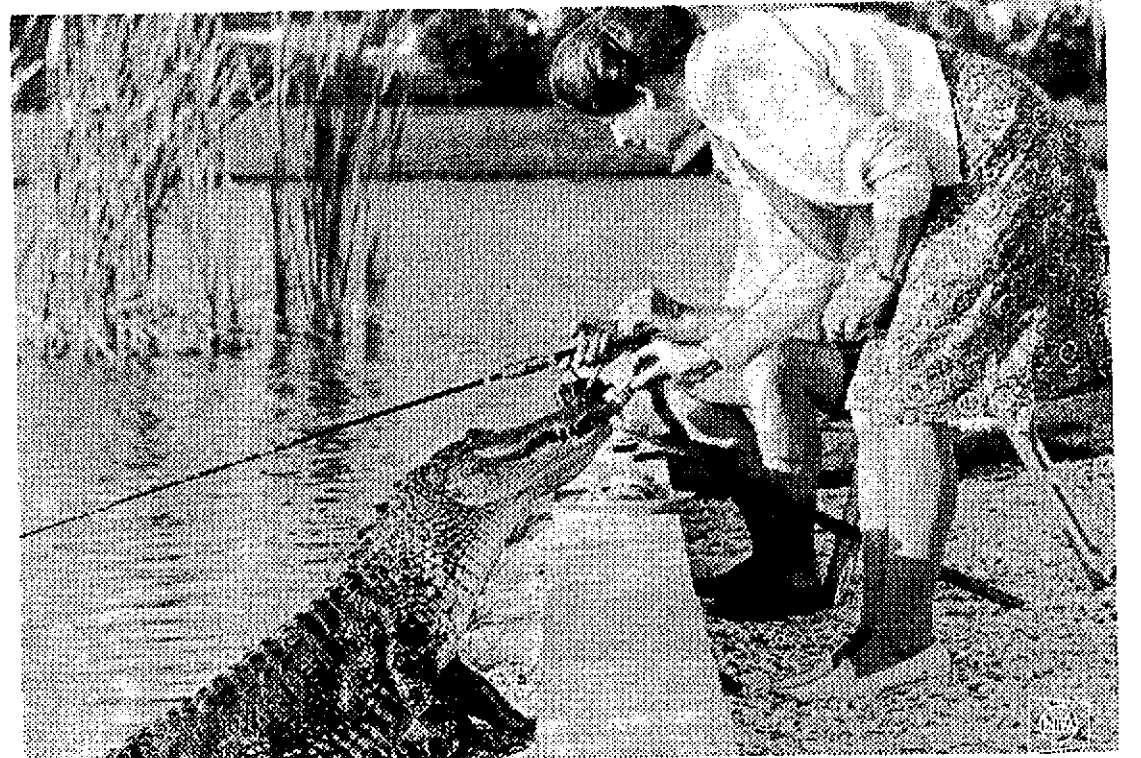

In the first play, Lindsay was dumped on his face and shoulder.

Cheered by his wife and two children, he got up smiling.

At one point, the mayor was charged with unnecessary roughness when he raced into the press' backfield and grabbed a television reporter around the head as the newsmen was trying to get off a pass.

Lindsay left the game after the first scoreless half. Noting that the opposition "plays rough," Lindsay, with a grin, told his squad as he departed: "Play dirty."

At the end of the game, referee Gene Rossides, former Columbia University quarterback, said the score was 1-1 or 6-6, "whichever way you want it."

How to buy a Lincoln Continental for less than the cost of an ordinary car!

How? Buy one that's been previously owned. Being the second owner of a Continental makes a lot of sense. You get a car with more prestige than most new cars... a car that's engineered to perform better and longer... a car that's had first-class care all its life... and you're saving some thousands of dollars! Our stocks vary from time to time, of course, so call me to see what I have on hand now. I promise, you'll save substantially!

Friday, March 18
Evergreen Lodge No. 175 will have its regular meeting Friday, March 18 at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to attend. Visiting brothers are welcome.

Saturday, March 19.
The Hempstead County Republican Women's Club will hold a "White Elephant" sale on Saturday, March 19 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. on South Main Street across from Barry's Grocery and Market.

Junior Legion Auxiliary
Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary Leslie Huddleston Unit 12 met in the home of Mrs. Joe Jones on Monday, March 14, and Gayle Williams, program chairman for March, had an interesting presentation on "Music and Its Different Phases." She traced music from ancient times to the modern day, citing the works of several great composers. She referred to Francis Macbeth, professor of music at Ouachita who appeared at Hope High last week, and stressed the need for a greater understanding of good music.

Cathy Feild, vice-chairman, presided over the meeting with Martha Bader acting as secretary-treasurer in the absence of the regular officers. Gayle Williams, sergeant-at-arms led the pledge of allegiance and the preamble, while Darla Kay James voiced the opening prayer. With Maria Jones at the piano the group sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

Pennies were collected for the Foreign Relations Project in the Philippines, and plans were laid for entering the poppy contest in May. Linda Huckabee was welcomed as a new member.

Veteran-made poppies centered the serving table in commemoration of the Legion's 47 birthday this week. A St. Patrick's Day theme was used for the cake squares and cold drink enjoyed by 10 members. The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

Dorcas Sunday School Class
The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the Garrett Memorial Church met Thursday evening, March 10, in the home of Mrs. Arlene Frith.

The meeting was called to order by the Vice-President, Mrs. Mae Huckabee. Mrs. Ester Beard led in prayer. After a short business session, Mrs. Rachael Turner brought a most inspiring devotion on "Spring." Mrs. Emilie Prescott concluded with prayer.

During the social hour the group enjoyed some games after which the hostess served a sandwich and dessert plate with punch to 10 members and four guests. Mrs. Rachael Turner, Miss Gwen Frith, Mrs. Dora Wortham, and Mrs. Marie Crafton.

Dance at Hope Country Club
A dance at the Hope Country Club on Saturday, March 12 had as hosts Mr. and Mrs. Al Graves, Alvin Easterling, Donald Moore, and Jim Hooper. The evidence of spring was seen in the camellias and daffodils which graced the clubhouse.

During the evening sandwiches, dips and chips were served from a table centered with these flowers. About 60 enjoyed an evening of dancing, and these included Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Texarkana, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gillespie, Magnolia.

Duplicate Bridge Club
Master Point Night for the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club was held at the Hope Country Club on Monday, March 14 with three tables of players. Mrs. J. C. Broyles and Mrs. Marie Hendrix were the high scorers for the evening.

The other winners were: second, R. L. Broach and Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr.; third, Mrs. R. L. Broach and Mike Kelly; fourth, Mrs. Paul Lewis and Mrs. Dick Moore.

Members are reminded that a Winners Game will be played on Wednesday.

Coming and Going
Mr. and Mrs. Cline Franks, Fayetteville, were here over the weekend visiting relatives.

Miss Sue Montabana, Houston, spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. Eurbie Lively, and attended the Military Ball at Henderson State Teachers College with Ricky Stone.

Mrs. Glenice Porter and Mrs. J. W. Perkins, representing Wesleyan Service Guild No. 1, attended the 18th annual meeting of the Little Rock Conference, Wesleyan Service Guild, held in Arkadelphia last Saturday.

Mrs. Jerry Owen and Stacy are in Boston visiting Rick Foster.

Mrs. Lois Russell left Tuesday for Ft. Bragg, N. D., where she will visit Capt. and Mrs. James F. Russell and family. While there, Mrs. Russell will see her son receive his promotion to Major.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Miller of Little Rock, Mrs. Lois Alston of Morrilton and Miss Florence Miller of Houston were the weekend guests of their sister, Mrs. C. W. Tarply and Mr. Tarply. Miss Miller will leave for a 2 month tour of Europe after her return trip to Houston.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Last November Princess Margaret of England was guest at a fancy movie-studio luncheon. This week it was Prince Philip. Neither of them said a word.

Not to the gathered luncheoners, anyway. The princess's excuse was a bad case of laryngitis. No explanation was made for the prince.

Prince Philip wasn't at a loss for words, however. He carried on a sprightly conversation with Rosalind Russell at his left and Glynis Johns at his right. Also at the head table were Connie Stevens, Mia Farrow, Barbara Parkins, Dorothy Malone, Natalie Wood, Anne Francis and Stephanie Powers.

That's right: females all. Asked for an explanation, a 20th Century-Fox aide replied: "Well, he's a male, isn't he?"

That's about as much logic as the luncheon contained. It was held on the Western-street set of the studio, and the trappings were frontier-style. The lunch was a curious mixture of Caesar salad, prime ribs of beef, barbecued spare ribs, mixed vegetables and hot apple pie with cheese, served with a California wine, Pinot Noir 1965.

The entertainment was an odd mixture, too. First came a group of bagpipers and Scottish-type dancers from La Habra High School, Calif. The reasoning apparently being that that was just the thing for the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Long Beach Mounted Patrol, cowboy types on palominos, attempted a ride down the Western street but were headed off at the crossroads; it seemed to be too risky in the star-studded crowd, which included Donna Reed, Groucho Marx, Edward G. Robinson, Robert Cummings, Tony Franciosa, James Garner, Charlton Heston and Keenan Wynn.

The prince was presented with a Winchester rifle by Van Heflin, who made the presentation on behalf of "Stage Coach," a new 20th Century-Fox movie. This was followed by square dancers and a demonstration by Thel Reed, who bills himself as "The Fastest Gun in the World." The prince held his hands over his ears.

The U.S. Marine Corps Band played a medley from "The Sound of Music," another film by 20th Century-Fox which has the latest plug in the West.

The luncheon broke up shortly after. Prince Philip was presented with a badge by Los Angeles Sheriff Pete Pitchess.

Unfunny Valentines: He's Blamed But Blameless

Dear Helen: This is a letter about the worst Valentine's Day I ever had. Some person with a corrupt mind sent insulting valentines to my wife and neighbors. For some reason (maybe to get me in trouble) I did not receive one of these miserable cards. So, as the only one who didn't get one, I'm blamed as the sender.

Although these cards were probably meant as a joke, they were not taken as such, even by my wife. I don't want my neighbors to go on thinking I sent them, as they are fine people and I'd hate to lose their friendship. Please help me and inform these folks how to find the culprit, so I can walk down the block in peace. — B. V.

Dear B: Only the guilty remember or worries over a back fired joke for a month. If your conscience is clear — forget it. Likewise, even if it isn't. — H.

Dear Helen: I work in a hotel. I have a friend who is a young widow. She is what every man would hope to get for a wife.

She thinks the world of a guy who visits her a lot. He told her he doesn't have any other girl friends. But he lives in the hotel where I work and I see and hear things. Also, he tells her he is broke and not working so he can't buy her gifts or take her out. He works every day, and whoops it up almost every night. Do you think I should tell him I know this widow and he isn't getting away with this? — Tom

Dear Tom: Why tell HIM? Give HER the straight good on this crooked roomer (spelled with an "a"), and catch her when she bounces. That is what you want, isn't it?

(Second thought department: Engineer it so she finds out for herself, which shouldn't be hard — with a little ingenuity. By some nutty subconscious transference, people who bring bad news often get blamed or banned for the unhappiness it always causes. . . And that would rule you out as a shoulder to cry on) — H.

"Agreeable yes Man" Bugs Her

Dear Helen: There's only one thing worse than an "Agreeable No Man" and that's an "Agreeable Yes Man." I could really sympathize with that gal who said her husband let her make all the decisions and when ever they'd go out he'd say "I don't care, it's up to you to whatever she'd suggest doing."

My husband is wonderful and I love him, but just ONE time I wish he'd make a stand. I ask him if he'd rather have a roast or steak for dinner — "I don't care," I say. "Which suit do you want to wear?" — "It's up to you," I ask. "Shall I wear my red suit or green dress?" — "It's your choice."

I wonder which show he may want to see or where he wants to eat out — always the same — "I don't care." He isn't this way at his office, where he makes all sorts of big decisions.

I swear I'm going to ask some day, "Do you want to make a world cruise or go to the lake this summer?" — and hold him to it.

Why are some men so pesky Agreeable, when half the fun of doing anything is battling around the pros and cons? — Mam with Yes Man

Dear Mam: For a woman — yes. But for your man "battling around the pros and cons" is argument, and if he makes a stand and loses, he's lost face. Men don't enjoy lengthy decisions as we females do.

(Maybe he knows his wife is like your daughter who asks, "What shall I wear today?" And when you tell her she says, "Oh, Mo-o-ther, not THAT rag!" — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star.

Ex-Mayor's Wife Has Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Robert F. Wagner, wife of New York City's former mayor, was reported in excellent condition after surgery for removal of a benign intestinal tumor.

Wagner, a Democrat whose 12-year administration ended New Year's Eve, was at Lenox Hill Hospital in New York during the two-hour operation Monday.

His wife, the former Barbara Cavanagh, 37, is to remain in the hospital for a week to 10 days.

They were married last July. Wagner's first wife, Susan, died of cancer in March 1964.

Pop Singer Says He Will Retire

LONDON (AP) — British pop singer Cliff Richard, 25, said today he plans to retire from singing and become a teacher of divinity.

"I have stage and film commitments for the next 18 months," he said, "and then I will have to go to college, which would take another three years. I have definitely decided now to be a full-time teacher of divinity."

He is scheduled to give his first talk on "Christian Maturity" at Lewes, Sussex, on Sunday.

Army Cagers Cut Down the Dons 80-63

By DOCK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Wishful thinking doesn't win basketball games but Army's Bill Helkie was a coach's dream come true.

Helkie, a near-sighted upper-classman, triggered the torrid-shooting Cadets into the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament with a brilliant 34-point performance that cut down San Francisco's tall Dons 80-63 Tuesday night.

Resurgent Villanova, sparked by Bill Belchioni's 30 points, beat off a fierce Boston College press 86-85 in the second game of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader, joining Army.

New York University and top-seeded Brigham Young in Thursday night's semifinal round.

The Cadets, dwarfed by San Francisco's 6-8, 6-6, 6-5 front line, ran away from the Dons by hitting 27 of 39 shots from the field, with Helkie's 15-for-20 jump shooting leading the way.

"It reminded me of the time when I was a sophomore at Ohio State and we shot 16 for 19 in the first half of a game in California," said Bob Knight, the Cadets' intense first-year coach who played on the Buckeyes' 1960 NCAA title team.

"It's funny, but I was thinking about the game today and figuring how nice it would be if something like that happened against San Francisco."

Helkie is what happened to the stunned Dons in the decisive opening half as the Cadets, without a starter over 6-foot-3, rolled to a 39-24 lead. Helkie canned his first six shots and made 12 of 15 before intermission en route to topping his career high of 27 points set in last Saturday's first-round victory over Manhattan.

The Cadets, meanwhile, sty-mied USF star Joe Ellis — who didn't score a field goal until the second half was 3½ minutes old — outtoughed 6-8 Irwin Mueller off the boards and shot into the NIT semifinals for the third straight year.

Army, now 18-6, meets Brigham Young and Villanova, 17-10, plays NYU in Thursday night's semifinals.

Local Teams in Meet of In. Tourney

Last Fight of Clay Could Be Very Costly

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Cassius Clay's last fight in possibly a couple of years could turn out to be a financial bomb for the champion.

As the heavyweight champion (except in World Boxing Association territory) prepared to leave Miami for a late fight with his Louisville draft board Thursday, most of the reports on finances concerning his defense against George Chuvalo seemed to be gloomy.

Clay, or Muhammad Ali as he pretends to be called, could wind up with a gross purse of about $75,000 before taxes for his 15-rounder with the Canadian champion at the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, March 29. And taxes could chop that figure to $40,000 or so.

There will be no radio broadcast of the bout and the British Broadcasting Corp., which had contracted for a live telecast of the projected Clay-Ernie Terrell fight, said Tuesday it was not interested in the Clay-Chuvalo fight for an expensive relay by Early Bird satellite.

Closed-circuit television provides the biggest part of the loot for heavyweight title fights these days but the pickings may be small for this 5-1 and (get 5-1 on Chuvalo but can't get Clay) bout which has been denounced as a mismatch by several boxing organizations.

Main Bout, Inc., which owns the ancillary rights including closed-circuit television, originally had hoped to have more than 200 outlets for the television. Mike Malitz, the executive vice-president of MBI, said the major theater chains which agreed to take the Clay-Terrell fight, have dropped out of the agreement.

MBI could end up with just a handful of outlets. It could be that the promotion's share of the theater-TV gross may not be more than $100,000.

The live fight in the Maple Leaf Gardens doesn't figure to gross more than $200,000 at prices ranging from $7 to $100.

Clay is contracted for 50 per cent of everything. Half of a $200,000 gate would be $100,000 Canadian—or $93,000 American. Half of $1, ancillary pot. Half of $100,000 ancillary pot would make his total $143,000.

From this $143,000 Clay has to pay half to the Louisville sponsoring group which manages him. The Louisville group pays expenses.

So the unbeaten 24-year-old champ would have $71,500—before taxes—for his end. That's not chicken feed but it's a sharp drop from the purses he received for his two fights with Sonny Liston and one with Floyd Patterson.

Ring Magazine estimates Clay's purses for those three fights at $360,000, $480,000 and $692,000.

HEAT TREAT—One way to find relief from spring training and the hot Florida sun, according to Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, is to sit down after practice with a knife and a big, cool watermelon.

Globetrotters Founder Dies at Age of 63

CHICAGO (AP) — Abe Saperstein, America's little ambassador of good will, died Tuesday night at the age of 63.

Saperstein, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, died of a heart ailment at Weiss Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Friday.

Saperstein could have served as a model for the United Nations. He was one of a Jewish family of 10 born in London, who organized a Negro team which traveled throughout the world and found the welcome mat out in the Vatican as well as behind the Iron Curtain.

A 5-footer who because of his size couldn't play basketball at the University of Illinois after competing in basketball, baseball and track at Lake View of Chicago, Saperstein organized the Harlem Globetrotters, an all-Negro team, which made its debut in Hinckley, Ill., back in 1927.

Through the years, the clowning Globetrotters caught on with their trick shooting and traveled through 87 countries while logging five million miles.

Through the depression years, Abe stuck it out with his team despite the fact they had to travel in a Model T Ford and had to make the most of nothing for meals.

The Globetrotters played in old movie houses with pot-bellied stoves to keep warm, barns and basements and then advanced to New York, then California in 1934.

Gaining fame in the United States, the Globetrotters went on world tours striding in 1950 when they made their first European trip.

Since then they hit nearly every continent and major city in the world as they performed before kings, queens, rajahs and even Russian commissars on a year-round schedule of 340 games.

Wherever he went, Saperstein won friends not only for himself but also the United States and eventually won this country's gratitude as a first-ranked ambassador of good will.

Survivors include his widow, Sylvia; a son, Gerald, and a daughter, Mrs. Eloise Berkely.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday in Temple Beth Israel.

Dickson Sets New Conference Marks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas State College's John Dickson set two Southland Conference basketball records — in field goal percentage and in rebounds — final figures showed Tuesday.

He led the conference in those categories, as well as in scoring, with 559 points for a 22.4 average.

His field goal average was .663 and the rebound average was 14.2.

Dickson missed out only on the free throw percentage title, which went to Arlington State's Dink Ford with .847.

Final figures were compiled after three Southland teams — Abilene Christian, Arkansas State and Lamar Tech — competed in NCAA regional play-

Kentucky: A Chance for Title Fifth NCAA

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

IOWA CITY, Iowa.—(NEA)—For 24 hours, the state of Kentucky was split like a pair of bitter political enemies.

The trouble—part politics, part basketball.

Fans from Western Kentucky College in Bowling Green had come to Iowa City, hoping the Hilltoppers—poor, but deserving relations—finally would get their chance to play Adolph Rupp and his University of Kentucky Wildcats.

The two schools had never met. "It is," said Western coach John Oldham, "the natural rivalry that has never been played." The University of Kentucky hasn't scheduled state schools during the regular season. It is the archaic story about risking everything to gain nothing.

So now, at the National Collegiate Athletic Association Midwest regional only Cazzie Russell and the University of Michigan separated Western from its chance.

There haven't been many more dramatic games in college basketball this season, and when Russell made two fouls in the closing seconds to give Michigan an 80-79 win, John Oldham's dream ended for another year.

It was a bitter loss for Western and its fans, but apparently 24 hours in a Kentuckian's life is time for hurt to heal and chauvinism to bloom. One night later when UK played Michigan for the regional title, Western's pep band, its cheerleaders and all its fans were solidly behind Adolph Rupp and the University of Kentucky. It was reminiscent of the end of a bitter primary election. Now, it's anything for the party—or the state.

The truth, however, is that Adolph Rupp's basketball team is an easy one to admire and easy one to enjoy—even if you are a disappointed Western fan.

Without height—or muscle—it lost only one regular season game before winning the Midwest regional, 84-77, over Michigan. The win qualified Kentucky for the NCAA finals at College Park, Md., March 18-19 and it gives Rupp a chance for his fifth national title.

Kentucky's opponent in the Eastern championship game will be Duke, and Tom Carmody, the Blue Devils' freshman coach, took an impressive scouting report back to Durham, N.C.

"What amazed me most," Carmody said, "is their execution, offensively and defensively. On offense they are patient and always looking for each other. They wait for the good shots and are totally unselfish. And their zone worked well against Michigan."

Kentucky, however, will have problems with Duke.

Against Dayton, in the opening Midwest regional game, the Flyers' 6-11 center, Henry Finkel, scored 36 points against the Wildcats, even though he shoots only with his left hand and his moves to the basket are much the same each time he gets the ball.

Duke's Mike Lewis, though four inches shorter than Finkel, moves both ways and is more aggressive than Finkel on both offense and defense.

"Finkel gave us trouble, just as we expected," Rupp said, "but we still had enough to win, didn't we?"

Duke is much deeper than Dayton and its forwards Jack Marin and Bob Riedy, both 6-6 and both strong rebounders, are bigger than Kentucky's tallest starter, sophomore Thad Jaracz (6-5).

The Wildcats don't seem worried though.

"We are determined to win it," said Pat Riley, the Wildcats' top scorer and rebounder. "After last year, we had to do something and now we have."

The big difference is when we get behind. Last year we stayed behind. This year we've always managed to come back. We have so much pride. I guess that's the biggest thing. We think if we get beat we let everyone down."

That explains the concern over the 1964-65 season. The Wildcats finished 15-10 which may be fine for the majority of coaches, but not Adolph Rupp, who has a 36-year record of 746-151.

There were many reasons for the so-called comedown last year. Rupp, now 64, was not well and there were reports of dissension on the squad.

Last summer, the problems dissolved.

"About 10 of us stayed around Lexington," said senior forward Larry Conley. "We got to know each other. And when you get to know each other off the floor it makes a big difference. I could have told you then we were going to come this far."

Conley is the assist leader on the Kentucky team. Riley leads in scoring and rebounding. Tommy Kron leads in aggressiveness and Jaracz leads in improvement.

It is a team that has completely enamored itself to Rupp for its hustle and its surprise showing this season.

And it is a team that has re-united—for a week anyway—the state of Kentucky.

All that remains is the fifth title.

Maybe then Adolph Rupp can retire to his Hereford farm.

"Oh no," Rupp said. "If I get the fifth, then I'll want the sixth."

Hawks Almost in the Playoffs

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks all but clinched a spot in the National Basketball Association playoffs Tuesday night by staving off a San Francisco rally to beat the Warriors 110-109.

In other games, the Cincinnati Royals whipped the New York Knicks 125-107 at Dayton, Ohio, and the Los Angeles Lakers turned back the Detroit Pistons 135-108 on the West Coast.

The victory pushed the third-place Hawks two games ahead of San Francisco in the Western Division.

St. Louis has five games to play and San Francisco has three games remaining in the race for the last playoff berth in the West.

Unranked Utah Surprised at Cage Success

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unranked Utah is a little surprised to find itself in the NCAA basketball championship tournament, but Coach Jack Gardner isn't conceding a thing.

And Coach Don Haskins of the Texas Western, the nation's third-ranked team which meets the Utes Friday night at the University of Maryland, isn't taking Utah for granted.

"We're a little surprised to be there," Gardner said Tuesday in a five-way news conference with the coaches of the four teams in the playoff. "As a matter of fact it's the most surprising thing in my 30 years of coaching. After all, we finished in the cellar of the Western Athletic Conference last year."

Gardner said, however, that his Utah squad, which has a season record of 23-6, should not be sold short even though he admitted his team will have to overcome some handicaps to win — mainly playing without three regulars.

Among Utah's problems: George Fisher, the team's top rebounder and defensive player broke his leg near the end of the regular season; Ron Cunningham is not eligible for the tournament, and Lyndon Mackay twisted a knee last Saturday night and might not play against Texas Western.

In addition, if Utah does get by the Texas Western Friday night, it must play the winner of the Kentucky-Duke game, the nation's first and second-ranked teams, Saturday for the NCAA championship.

Coach Don Haskins of Texas Western, 26-1, said his team will have to stop Utah's running game.

"Gardner has always had good offensive teams," he said. "Meanwhile, Duke, 25-3, and Kentucky, 26-1, who many believe will be playing for the national championship when they meet Friday, are having problems with illness."

Coach Vic Bubas of Duke was to find out today if one of his —Ouachita, runnerup in the All-America, will be able to play Friday night. ## Youths Not Impressed by St. Pat

By ED MCCUSKER
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — With Batman and international spies so popular these days, it's hard to impress a youngster with the importance of St. Patrick—even if his family ties go back to the old country.

"Sean," I asked my nephew the other day, "do you know what Thursday is?"

"Sure, Unk, that's Batman Day on television."

I looked into the face of the 7-year-old and rubbed his thatch of carrot-colored hair, and said, "It's also St. Patrick's Day."

"Was he a spy?"

"No, but he was a good guy. He was against the bad guys."

"Like Thrush, huh?"

"Thrush?"

"Yeah, Thrush, in 'The Man from U.N.C.L.E.'," he said.

I poured him a glass of milk and fetched some cookies to rivet his attention.

Before I could make my pitch for St. Patrick—the man from Ireland—he said: "Batman has a cape and he can fly."

It must have been about that time that St. Pat smiled on me because I conjured up a bit of blamey.

"St. Patrick was kind of a spy for the good guys. A lot of people from Thrush were in a country called Ireland, a long time ago. The bad ones didn't care about good things. They would fight and steal and kill each other."

"So, St. Patrick was assigned to Ireland on a special mission to drive out the bad guys. They were called snakes."

"He would walk into little towns, unafraid. He wore a long green cape and told the people to try to be good."

Sean interrupted, "Batman has a cape."

"That's right. Well, St. Patrick spent most of his life fighting the bad guys. And now on March 17 each year, we remember him on this special day. People from Ireland and descendants of the Irish honor St. Patrick."

About that time, his mother came through the kitchen door and said:

"Sean, you devil, I've been looking all over for you. Sister Margaret called from school and she wants you to play Batman in the school play on St. Patrick's Day."

He grabbed a supply of cookies and raced out the door yelling over his shoulder, "Sorry about that, chief!"

Watusi Apparently Plan Invasion

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — An estimated 2,500 Watusi tribesmen led by several Peking-trained guerrilla warfare experts are massed in Burundi on the border with Rwanda and are apparently preparing to invade Rwanda, their homeland, intelligence sources report.

Wives and children of the American Embassy staff in Kigali, the capital of Rwanda, have been evacuated to Nairobi, and the Canadian air force is preparing to fly out nearly 100 Canadians teaching at Rwanda's national university in Butare.

The warlike Watusis—some of whom are seven feet tall—are said to be armed with modern automatic weapons mostly from Communist China.

The Watusis fled Rwanda in 1963 when that little country's more numerous Bahutus turned on them and killed thousands.

Sukarno Still in Touch With China Reds

By JOHN CANTWELL
SINGAPORE (AP) — Sources in Singapore said today an order from President Sukarno for the assassination of four anti-Communist generals has come to light in Jakarta.

The sources said Lt. Gen. Suharto's new military regime has also discovered that Sukarno is in constant touch with Peking by radio from his palace at Bogor, 40 miles from Jakarta.

The sources said they did not know which generals were named in the assassination order but that they understood they were members of Suharto's regime.

They said the order apparently was drawn up before Sukarno handed over his powers to the military last Saturday. He remains as a figurehead president.

The sources said discovery of the document could lead to "violent action" against Sukarno.

"The whole situation may now be changed," they said.

The sources said reports of the assassination order are circulating widely in Jakarta and could lead to new student demonstrations.

The sources said intelligence agents in Jakarta gave the assassination order "a high credibility rating." They said it apparently was found in the offices of Sukarno's pro-Peking foreign minister and first deputy premier, Subandrio, or in the offices of Subandrio's intelligence service.

Democratic Groups Sue for Charters

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Pulaski Chancellor Kay Matthews was asked Tuesday to make the Arkansas Young Democratic Clubs Executive Committee issue charters to several would-be YDC units.

A hearing on the lawsuit, brought by members of clubs which were refused charters last week by the committee, is scheduled for Thursday.

The YDC holds its annual state meeting Saturday and Sunday.

The committee voted last Saturday to charter 22 of 33 challenged clubs.

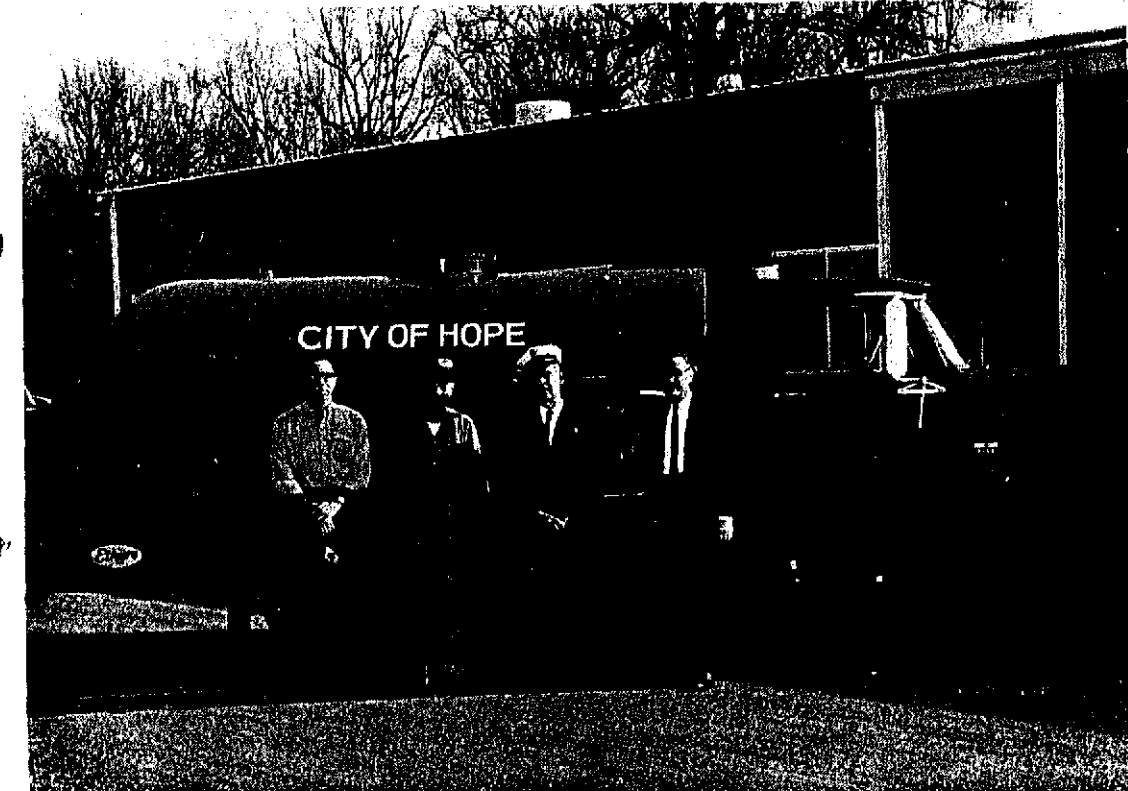

Filing the suit was Richard Griffin of Crossett, president of the Ashley County Young Democrats. He filed the suit for H. B. Pierce and Charles Ware, both of Conway County.

The suit was against the Credentials Committee of the YDC, the Rules Committee, the YDC state officers and the convention chairman.

The suit asked for charters to clubs from Conway, Crittenden, Greene, Izard, Johnson, Lincoln, Lonoke, Sharp, Monroe, Dallas, Garland and Crawford counties, and Harding College at Searcy.

The suit also objected to a $10 fee it said was required of each delegate to the state convention.

The City of Hope has just received a new combination street flusher and fire fighting truck, which was purchased on bids dated November 19th. The truck chassis was purchased from Young Chevrolet Company and the equipment from R. A. Young and Son Machinery Company. The Chevrolet chassis was delivered from the factory to the Elyre Manufacturing Company in Oregon, Illinois, who built the equipment and delivered the unit to Hope.

The old street flusher has been out of service for the last three months and the Street Department has been having a hard time keeping the downtown streets clean. The new equipment will be a valuable addition to the Fire Department. It carries 1,000 gallons of water and has three high pressure hose lines served by independently powered pump. The equipment was designed especially for fighting grass fires, but will be used a lot on all small fires. Fire Chief Jim Cobb says it will be the most valuable piece of emergency equipment in the Fire Department. The old street flusher being replaced was bought in 1952.

Statistics reveal that four women disappear to every 1,000 men.

DeGaulle's Stock Falling in Germany

By CARL HARTMAN
BONN, Germany (AP) — Charles de Gaulle's stock is falling again in West Germany because he apparently wants France to do here just what he wants to stop the United States from doing in France. He is taking steps to put French forces in Germany fully under his own command.

There are 60,000 to 70,000 French troops in West Germany, at least on paper. The United States has 26,000 in France.

In West Germany, the troops of the United States, Britain and France still are stationed in the same areas they have held 20 years. About 50,000 British are in the north and 250,000 Americans in the central and southern portions of the country. The French are in the southwest.

The West Germans do not complain about this situation. Yet in some ways they are even more sensitive about national sovereignty than De Gaulle. In 1945, they were a defeated nation.

tion without rights. A decade later they joined the Atlantic Alliance. Any proposal that looks like a lowering of their status gets a most unfriendly reception in Bonn.

So the presence of foreign troops is all right with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government as long as they are under a unified Atlantic command, as are West Germany's own 400,000 men. Looking across the Iron Curtain that divides their country, the West Germans express worry if there is any question of cutting down the strength.

What the West Germans don't like is the idea of returning to anything like the situation right after World War II, when foreign troops occupying German territory were the supreme authority in the land. This could occur under present treaties if an emergency arose and the American, British and French commanders decided their troops were threatened—say by war or rioting. Erhard's government has been trying hard to eliminate this possibility but has run into domestic political difficulties.

Now the prospect arises that the French troops will revert to purely French command even without an emergency.

De Gaulle probably is ready to negotiate some kind of joint command directly with Erhard. But Erhard wrote him last week that all these matters concern the alliance as a whole and need to be negotiated with all 15 members. Naturally these include the United States.

De Gaulle has made it plain that he would like a European defense system built around his own nuclear force and allied only loosely with the United States. There has been much talk of a political and defense organization among the countries of the Common Market: France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. So far it has come to nothing.

De Gaulle's plan to resume full control over French troops in Germany may be designed as pressure on the West Germans to change their minds. A Gaulist group active in West German politics wants to do just that. Its leaders are ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his former defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss. They belong to Erhard's Christian Democratic party but are at odds with him and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder.

The ancient Greeks knew the Strait of Dardanelles as the Hellespont.

Wall Street Skeptical of Inflation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The administration is holding to its view that the economy can go on expanding without overheating or setting off rapid inflation. But Wall Street is raising a skeptical eyebrow.

Official Washington spokesmen are reaffirming that increased government spending, business spending and consumer spending are healthy—and even needed.

They are pooh-poohing worries that the sharp drop in the jobless rate and coincidental shortages of workmen with certain skills is dangerous.

They insist that the economy still has plenty of resources to tap and labor to employ in order to go on growing and to supply all the funds wanted for both the Viet Nam war and the "Great Society."

At the same time, the administration spokesmen are hedging each pronouncement with the assurance that if overheating starts, inflation gets out of hand, the White House will move quickly to cool things down by asking for higher taxes on corporations and individuals.

Why is Wall Street so skeptical, as shown by the sharp sell-off in the stock market?

Some of the economic rules haven't been operating quite as many had anticipated a few months back.

The rise of interest rates to the highest levels in 30 years would normally be supposed to put a brake on the boom in spending. But bankers say that so far it hasn't, and their big problem is finding the money to lend to their clamoring customers.

Most of these are businessmen seeking to finance activities which have been expanding faster than earlier expected. They are also expected to borrow heavily—either at the bank or by floating bonds or other securities—to pay for their swelling plans for building new plants and buying new equipment.

Wall Street also notes that many industries now are operating close to maximum profitable capacity—that is, from now on more production would have to be in less profitable, because outdated, plants. It is this bumping against the capacity ceiling, when demand for goods is rising, that has led to slow but steady increase in both industrial and consumer prices.

Consumers also are going right on seeking loans. Most of these are for the big ticket items such as cars. There's less mortgage borrowing for home purchases.

The auto industry reports that new car sales this month have been setting a record for March. Many buyers are doing so on the monthly payment plan.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Many New Uses Predicted For Cool Surgery Treatment

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The use of freezing temperatures in surgery was adapted several years ago by Dr. Irving Cooper of New York for the treatment of shaking palsy. Since then cryosurgery, as it is called, has found many uses. Dr. Cooper developed a hollow needle through which liquid nitrogen could be circulated at a temperature of minus 321 degrees Fahrenheit. Only the tip of the needle was exposed, but a very small area of the brain could be destroyed by the freezing action without damaging the adjacent tissues.

This technique has been extended to the removal of rectal tumors and other benign tumors, cataracts and even cancers. Another valuable use of the needle is the partial or complete destruction of an overactive pituitary. This tiny gland, lying deep in the head near the brain, has always been hard for surgeons to reach. The problem is greatly simplified with the use of the freezing needle.

One important advantage of cryosurgery is that it can be used to remove the tonsils of persons who are congenital bleeders or who are victims of leukemia. The technique is practically bloodless and requires only about 10 minutes. Three weeks after the operation, the tonsils shrink almost to the vanishing point.

Bleeding from the uterus has been controlled by using a larger freezing tube. Enlarged prostates have also been successfully treated by cryosurgery with far less discomfort than with methods formerly used and with less danger of infection. As the technique improves it is certain that many other uses for it will be found.

Q—My doctor prescribed digitalis because I have a weak heart. I recently read that prolonged use of this drug will affect the vision or even cause hallucinations. Is this true?

A—Digitalis, like any other drug that must be taken for a long time, must be given in a maintenance dosage—the amount that you require to meet your individual needs. Your doctor must make sure that, while you are taking this life-saving drug, you are getting sufficient potassium in your diet.

The earliest sign of digitalis poisoning is nausea. If digitalis poisoning is allowed to progress there may be diarrhea and a tendency for everything to look yellow. Hallucinations are not common. Most doctors advise skipping the drug one day a week after the maintenance level has been determined. This usually prevents poisoning.

PALEFACE POWER—Looking like something Sitting Bull would have liked to have had in fighting the U.S. cavalry, the Army's newest guided missile, the Chaparral, rides from its launching pad at Naval Ordnance Test Station, China Lake, Calif. The arrowlike Chaparral, a modified Navy Sidewinder, is a surface-to-air missile designed to be used by front-line troops against low-flying aircraft.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP-TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television networks, occasionally and reluctantly, pool manpower and equipment for things like space shots and political conventions, but their fierce rivalry and competition is the real thing.

Bennett Cerf, member of CBS "What's My Line?" panel, heads a publishing house which is being acquired by the Radio Corporation of America and is expected to become a member of the RCA board. NBC is a subsidiary of RCA.

Mark Goodson, producer of game shows including "What's My Line?" said in a recent radio interview that Cerf had been under "great pressure" by RCA to leave the panel.

Apparently this situation has been adjusted somehow, since Cerf is expected to continue on the show.

The show business publication "Variety" reported from Washington this week that Jimmy Durante had finally revealed the identity of the mysterious Mrs. Calabash to whom he has always wished a fond adieu at the end of his television and radio programs.

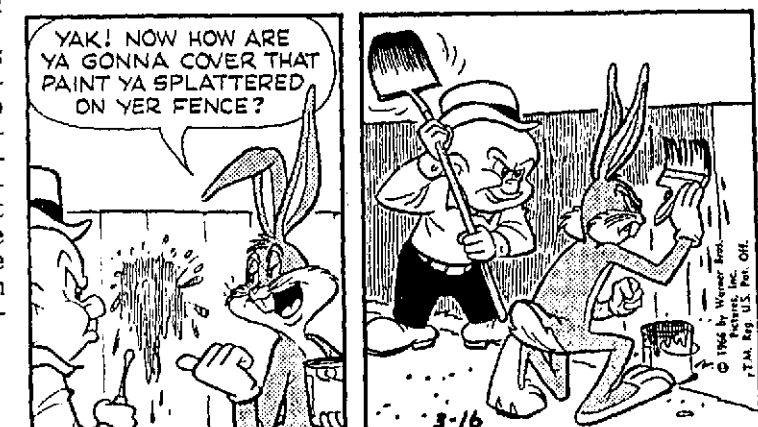

It was his first wife, Jeanne, who died more than 20 years ago. When they were first married, he explained, they lived in a Chicago boarding house run by a nice woman named Mrs. Calabash, and that somehow became his nickname for his wife. The line, "Goodnight Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are," started out as a personal greeting on radio to his wife and later became his broadcasting signature.

Opening lead—♥ Q.

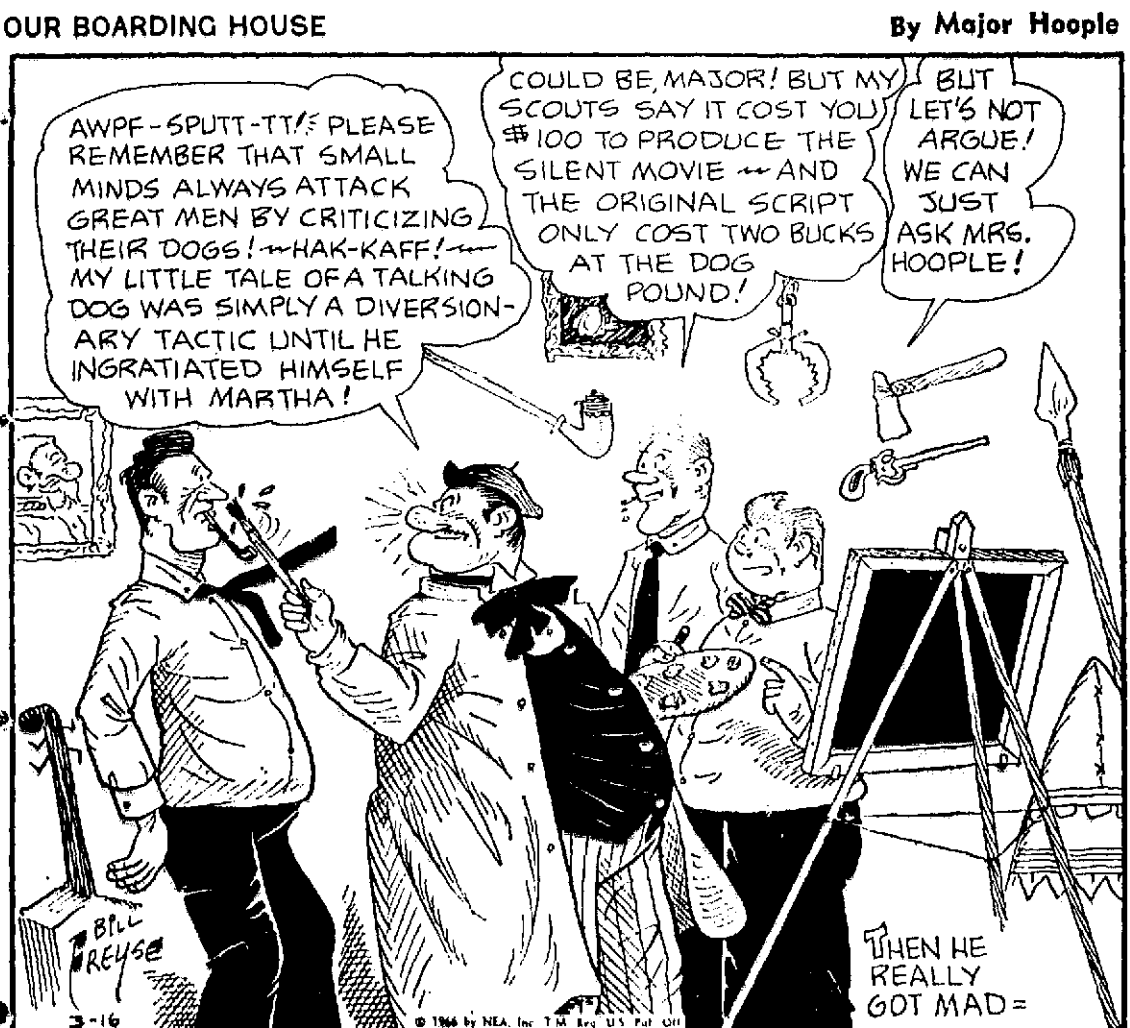

Oswald shows Jim the North and South cards and asks, "How do you plan you will play at six spades after West opens the queen of hearts?" Jim: "You've really given me a tough one. I have possible plays in every suit but clubs. I start by thinking along the lines of the coded word Arch. Analysis of the lead indicates that it is probably a four or five card heart suit since he would not lead a shorter suit after hearts have been rebid, so my first step is to abandon the idea of trying to break the hearts 3-3 to set up a diamond distribution. Review of the bidding tells me nothing. The opponents did not bid. Count of the losers shows one possible loser in diamonds and two possible losers in trumps. If I have to lose a diamond I must play the trumps for no losers which means taking a trump finesse and finding two trumps in each hand. If I don't have to lose a diamond I can afford one trump loser which means that the correct play will be to play my ace of hearts to see if I can drop the singleton king. If I don't drop the singleton king I go back to dummy and lead toward my queen. After all this preliminary thought I decide that the best play will be to test the diamonds first. I come to my hand with a club and try the diamond finesse. Does it work?" Oswald: "Yes." Jim: "Then I lead a trump to my ace." Oswald: "You drop the singleton king and the rest is just picking up the marbles." Jim: "It sure goes to show the value of studying the whole play at trick one."

Bird Note With Other Editors

It was a lone male martin, but it counts for the record, for he arrived at one of my boxes yesterday noon, March 15. And he's on schedule. A year ago several birds arrived March 6. But in 1964 the date was March 14, and again there was a lone male. In 1963 the arrival was March 21.

A note from Ross Bales, Ross-ton highway, reminds us that you don't have to go to Texarkana to buy martin houses — he custom builds them right here, any shape or fashion to your choosing. Mr. Bales reports he has sold hundreds of them.

Age Comes Fast Enough

That parents' organization in Dallas, Texas, has come up with some excellent thinking on the always interesting situations of teenagers. For too long, we've observed, children of all ages have wanted to grow up too quickly. They've wanted to be Mr. and Mrs. before spending any time hardly at all in the lad and lassie stage.

To do something about this is the aim of the group in Dallas which calls itself, simply, the Parents League of Dallas. Lest somebody opine there're already too many organizations doing precious little about anything, let us say that this Dallas group is picking up and running with some excellent ideas that may spread to similar organizations throughout the country. Here's a quote from one of the organizers: "We want to slow down the pace at which youngsters mature, and perhaps lessen the pressure to conform. We do not want 15-year-olds in 18-year-old situations."

The League, sensibly, hasn't set up any hard and fast rules expecting one and all to live up to them. Rather, it's trying to get a consensus — to use an already overworked word — of teachers, doctors, parents and teenagers themselves. They want this consensus on what age auto drivers' licenses should become available, what age youngsters should be to go to mixed parties or to dance or to late movies, and, of course, what ages youngsters should start dating.

Main thing the Dallas parents would like — and we think properly — is for a 13-year-old to stay 13 for at least one year, and so on up the line. They just don't want their 13-year-olds to be and act like 18-year-olds. — Wilmington (N.C.) Star-News

Hughes Approves Bond Issue

HUGHES, Ark. (AP) — Hughes voters approved a $25,000 bond issue Tuesday to finance natural gas service to the city and the south part of Crittenden County.

The vote was 136-5. A new gas line from near Lehi will be leased to Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to retire the bond issue.

Urged to Serve Un-Irish Fare

HUDSON, Wis. (AP) — St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in Hudson will serve a distinctly un-Irish fare on St. Patrick's Day.

Mrs. William Mulvaney began cooking spaghetti as a voluntary church duty for a St. Patrick's Day dinner 10 years ago and it became a tradition which has carried into many Hudson homes.

One St. Patrick's day dinner Bishop James Shannon, president of St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn., was a special guest.

At the end of the dinner he honored the cooks with these words:

"The Germans serve us sauerkraut."

"The French serve crepe suzette."

"But here among the Irish 'We gotta eat spaghetti.'"

Arnold Discusses Water Projects

SMACKOVER, Ark. (AP) — The only way to accomplish large water projects is through a partnership between federal, state and local authorities, a candidate for 4th District Congress said here Tuesday.

Richard Arnold of Texarkana, a Democrat, addressed a civic club.

"There is no more important way that we can work to improve our area than through development of our water resources," he said. "All we need to do is develop what we have."

Bills to Pay for War Quickly Signed by LBJ

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill to bring the government about $6 billion in additional revenue over the next 15 months. He used the signing ceremony to announce he plans to ask Congress next year to make "Social Security benefits more adequate."

Johnson gave no details but said he has asked Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner to make a study of possible improvements in Social Security. The bill the President signed Tuesday night — within three hours after Congress gave it final approval — grants Social Security coverage to about 300,000 persons over 72.

The signing ceremony capped a busy day for the President and Congress which saw the advancement of four money measures to bolster the nation's Viet Nam war effort.

The first effect of the tax bill is to increase from 6 percent to 7 percent starting today the excise tax on car sales. The measure also reinstates as of April 1 the 10 percent tax on phone calls — the levy is now 3 percent — and provides speed-ups in collection of corporate and personal income taxes. The latter takes effect May 1.

The bill is expected to provide some $1.2 billion in extra money by June 30 and $4.8 billion during fiscal 1967 starting July 1 to help finance the Viet Nam war. Johnson again said he could make no prediction now whether additional tax rises will be necessary later this year but added "you may be assured that this administration stands ready to act when action is needed — if it is needed. I am certain that the Congress stands ready to respond in the same manner."

There were these other developments:

— The House passed and sent to the Senate an appropriations bill providing $13,135,719,000 in emergency defense funds, military assistance and foreign economic aid. The House vote was 389 to 3, and Senate approval seemed assured, possibly today.

— The Senate okayed by voice vote and forwarded to the House an authorization measure providing $415 million in extra economic aid, most of it for South Viet Nam, with smaller sums for the Dominican Republic, Laos, Thailand and the President's contingency fund. The actual funds to be spent under this authorization are contained in the $13-billion-plus appropriations measure.

— President Johnson signed another authorization measure to provide $4.8 billion for additional military hardware. The actual funds under this authorization are also in the $13-billion-plus money bill.

Tuesday's action on the tax bill enabled Congress to meet the March 15 deadline set weeks ago by the President. Johnson observed at the signing ceremony that by doing so Congress had saved the government $1 million a day — the amount of anticipated revenue from the auto tax.

Both of the excise tax increases restore levies lowered last year, and both are designed as temporary measures to run until June 30, 1967.

The final votes to approve the bill — which was virtually the same as Johnson had proposed — were 72 to 5 in the Senate and 288 to 102 in the House.

Tech School Course Open on April 18

A five month course in heavy equipment operation will begin at the Red River Vocational Technical School in Hope starting on April 18. Classes will meet all day Monday — Friday.

Interested persons should contact the nearest Employment Security Division office for applications or write to the school at Hope.

The Red River Vocational Technical School is state-operated and is approved for veteran and other types of federally supported programs.

Student Is Wounded in Robbery Try

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A Henderson State College student was critically wounded early today during an attempted robbery of a tavern nine miles east of here on U.S. 270, the Garland County Sheriff's Office said.

Deputy Calvin York said Richard Lee Powell, 21, of Benton was struck in the neck and chest by shot when a night watchman at the tavern fired a double-barrel shotgun.

York said the watchman, Roy Johnson, 70, has been hired to sleep in the tavern after the tavern had been burglarized several times in recent months.

York said Johnson heard a window break, walked to the tavern portion of the building and saw someone leaving with a case of beer.

A search was under way for a second person believed to have been involved in the attempted robbery, York said.

Arkadelphia Police said Ronnie Gene Perry, 19, of Little Rock came to the police station and admitted being with Powell, his roommate at Henderson. Officers said Terry told them that they took two cases of beer from the tavern.

Charges were not immediately filed.

Negroes Riot Again in Watts Area of L.A.

By ROBERT W. COOKE and DORIS KLEIN

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

Six hundred Negroes rampaged for six hours late Tuesday, leaving at least two dead and 26 injured in a South Los Angeles area still showing scars of last August's bloody riot.

A massive force of several hundred police swiftly sealed off a 36-square-block section in the predominantly Negro Watts district, then moved in to clear the streets of mobs firing guns, hurling bottles, looting stores and upsetting cars.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown flew to Los Angeles, decided against calling out the alerted National Guard and announced: "Everything is well under control for the time being."

At the height of the outbreak a white truck driver, Lawrence Gomez, 30, father of five, was shot to death as he pounded on doors seeking refuge from a Negro mob.

Shortly afterward a Negro, Joe Lee Crawford, 33, died as he walked out of a store into cross-fire between police and rioters.

There were unconfirmed reports of a third death.

Police said 27 persons were arrested. Like last August, when the six-day toll was 34 dead and $40 million in damage from looting and fire, the violence was triggered by a minor incident.

Police said a Negro man threw a rock at a car driven by a white man. The white man, slightly injured, stopped and called police.

It was about 3:20 p.m. and nearby Jordan High School was just letting out for the day. Negro students gathered around the group and began accusing the officers of brutality in arresting the rock hurler.

Bricks and bottles flew from the growing mob. Police said Negroes started overturning automobiles and setting them afire.

Violence spread like wildfire through the streets of Watts. The first victim, Gomez, stepped from his truck to make a delivery of bottled water and was surrounded by a dozen young Negroes.

"Let's get the water man," one shouted.

SNPA Sees No Reason for Newspaper to Be Penalized With Newsprint Price Hike

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Officials of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association said today they see no reason for newspapers to be penalized with increasing newsprint prices when the South's pulpwood industry is far superior in production to any other area.

Edward L. Gaylord, president of the association, said newsprint manufacturers are jumping prices despite having comfortable profit margins, and already are selling newsprint at prices higher than in the western area of the United States.

"The part that bothers me," Gaylord said, "is that the south is being penalized after the southern publishers were the ones who started all these mills."

"The south has more raw materials, yet the Canadians can make newsprint, haul it across the country from British Columbia, and sell it cheaper in Denver than we can buy newsprint right here," he said.

Gaylord, publisher of the Oklahoma Publishing Co., Oklahoma City, said southern newspapers should be able to buy newsprint much cheaper.

Robert Mederman, SNPA treasurer and publisher of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division newspaper, said he has switched to southern newsprint and found it to be far superior to Canadian newsprint.

"However," Mederman said, "with the abundance of raw materials that can grow into pulpwood in 10 years, compared to 40 or 50 years required for Canadian pulpwood, we don't understand why it is necessary for the south to pay $20 more than certain mills charge out west."

"At a time when the president is attempting to hold down inflation, it seems that mills could have been more cooperative in bucking the inflationary trend," he said.

Gaylord, who called directors of the SNPA together in a special meeting here, was asked what publishers can do about the rising newsprint prices.

"We can raise a lot of Cain," he said. "They're already starting to come down off that (increase of) $10."

The Oklahoma publisher said he had canceled his contract with the Bowater Paper Co., which announced a $10 per ton increase, from $135 to $145, effective April 1.

Memorial Is Dedicated in Washington

A memorial marker for memory of Dr. Isaac Newton Jones, Pioneer Hempstead County physician, was dedicated in Washington Sunday by more than 100 of his descendants under supervision of the Arkansas chapter, Daughters of American Colonists, led by Mrs. E. B. Tyson of Little Rock, state historian of the organization.

Originally scheduled at the site of the marker, which has been erected on a lot between the Block-Cats House and the Magnolia Tree in Washington, the dedication service was held instead because of weather conditions in the former Washington High School building nearby.

Master of Ceremonies for the occasion was William B. Smith, well known Little Rock attorney, and principal speaker was Dr. John L. Ferguson, Executive Director, Arkansas History Commission.

There were some 135 in attendance coming principally from Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma, with the farthest visitors being from Chicago.

Stuart Wilson, Texarkana banker, presented to Pioneer Washington through Mrs. Charles A. Haynes its executive director, a book containing names of all known descendants of the pioneer doctor being honored.

Police said the brothers, who lived near Ealine, were attempting to cross the highway when their car was struck by a truck.

Suit Against Wirges Is Dismissed

MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Paul X. Williams dismissed Tuesday a $200,000 libel suit against former newspaper publisher Gene Wirges of Morrillton.

Williams filed the dismissal with prejudice, meaning the suit cannot be refilled, by agreement of both parties in the suit.

The suit was filed in 1963 by Conway County Judge Tom Scott, alleging that Wirges had made libelous statements against him in a column of the Morrillton Democrat, which Wirges published.

A Conway Circuit Court jury awarded Scott the $200,000 judgment and Wirges appealed. Last July, Williams set aside the judgment and ordered a new trial, and Wirges was preparing this case when the dismissal came.

He recently won reversal of another libel judgment, this one for $75,000.

A perjury trial stemming from testimony in the case recently brought Wirges a three-year prison sentence. The conviction is under appeal and Wirges remains free on bond.

"I believe that this outright dismissal of what once was a $200,000 judgment against me is a direct indictment of the jury system as it has come to function in Conway County," Wirges said Tuesday night.

"It should be remembered that the Conway County jurors in this case found no room for doubt," he said.

Blytheville voters approved Tuesday a .7 mill tax to help finance an industrial park. The vote was 666-146.

Officials estimate the tax will produce about $113,000 to buy and develop a site east of here.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts soared into orbit today on man's most difficult space venture and began stalking an Agena satellite across the sky in the first attempt to link up two orbiting vehicles.

Neil Armstrong and David Scott planned to close in on the Agena late today after a 105,000-mile chase and complete the historic docking about 6 p.m. EST, high above South America.

But the excitement of the action-packed flight won't end there. Three additional hookups are planned and Thursday Scott is to drift out into the silent emptiness of space for a record space walk of nearly 2 1/2 hours.

By the time the astronauts return to earth Saturday, if all goes as planned, they will have rehearsed many of the vital techniques that must be perfected before men venture to the moon.

The great space hunt started a 11:41 a.m. EST with the thundering blastoff of a Titan 2 rocket from Cape Kennedy. The 109-foot-tall projectile vaulted upward on a blazing trail of hot gases and drilled Gemini 8 into orbit more than 100 miles above the earth.

Command pilot Armstrong separated the spacecraft from the Titan 2 and fired jet thrusters to provide the final orbital speed of more than 17,500 miles an hour.

The firing tilted a spectacular launching doubleheader that started at 10 a.m. when an Atlas burst away from another launch pad to propel the Agena, target satellite into orbit 185 miles high—precisely the path desired.

As the 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena combination thundered aloft at 10 a.m. EST, astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott watched on a television monitor just outside the hatches of the Gemini space ship.

They had climbed into the little craft, perched on top of a Titan 2 rocket on another pad 6,000 feet away, 22 minutes before the Atlas engines burst into life.

If the Agena reached its planned circular orbit, 185 miles high, the two rookies of the U.S. space program were to ride their own rocket aloft at 11:41 a.m.

Then would begin a fantastic chase at 17,500 miles an hour. If nothing went wrong, it would end 6 1/2 hours later with the first linkup of spacecraft in orbit.

Thursday, Scott planned to drift out of his hatch and for nearly 2 1/2 hours fly as a human satellite—a world record of exposure of a man to the space void.

The countdown on the Atlas-Agena got under way six minutes ahead of schedule at 1:20 a.m. The spacecraft and Titan 2 counts were to join in several hours later.

The signal to go ahead with the dual countdown was given late Tuesday after technicians corrected mechanical problems on both launch pads. A fuel valve and regulator were replaced in the Atlas after fuel accidentally spilled on them; part of the Gemini 8 life support system was replaced after a leak developed.

The two problems caused a 24-hour delay in the launching. Even after they were corrected, there were some anxious moments Tuesday night and early this morning when three spacecraft troubles developed. The concerned a fuel-cell power system, a short circuit in a jet thruster system
